The Indiana Senatore,

(Correspondence of the N. Y. Herad.)

Washington, January 2 1888.

The Senators from Minnesots and Oregon—The dispute on the Indiana Senatorships—Warm work deal on that question.

The opening of Congress on Monday next, will be an interesting occasion. Of course the first regular huniness in the Senate, after disputer huniness in the Senate, after disputer huniness and her two Democratic Senators—Messra Rice and Shields—who will undoukedly reach the federal capital by that time. Oregon will come next with two more Democratic Senators, but neither of whom will take their seats at present. It is generally concluded that one of these Senators will be Gen. Lasa, the present Delegate from Oregon. The latent salvess do not intimate who the other will to.

The next item on the programme in the Senator, will be to those of Messra. Bright and Fish as findian, maker of whom, it is contended, has say right to a test in that body. The come is a much stronger one than that of denier Harlat, of Iowas, in the last Congress, and yet away personeratic Senator, and Shidell.

of censor Harlan, of lows, in the last Con-gress, and yet every Democratic Senator, cases lawer. Park, Toombs and Shidell, votes to ture him out. The question among the Republicans now seems to be whether the tree special recently made—by Fitch in the Senate and Select at Fulladelphis—both against the Dolay of Bougha, are no purchase them sair paces yet longer, against the Iowa prece-tion, is which all the Democratic Senators, carept the three named, are committed. If so, the predictions that the Douglas coup d'ent has applicated the Democratic party is not only me, but signs of present weakans are mani-striage themselves, which are altogether too withylag. The Reliev Sourery—The number of poor people who throng the Relief Society's rooms for help, continues unabated. We paid a visit yesterday morning and found the room erowded with men, women and chirren, of all ages and conditions. In order to supply this continual demand, the Society must be aided by the good will and material assistance of one citizens. Mr. Wardner, the efficient Secretary, is doing all in his power to relieve their necessities. His assistants work faithfully in the performance of their noble duty. The efforts of the Society are, however, impeded by the lack of means.

We trust that the public generally, and those of our citizens who are blessed with pleasty. All spare something of their abundance, to feat the poor of the city who cannot, and employment. Send in provisions, second hand clotting, and money if you can. Let each one contribute something of his means for the furtherance of the noble aims of this Society.

tax payers and property owners may be forced to pay for it, be it ever so much against their will.

The Commissioners held a meeting on last Monday afternoon, called especially, we believe, for the purpose of giving the citizons an opportunity to present to the Commissioners their views as to the value of the ground proposed to be taken for the pair, and also of adjoining property. Although the meeting was announced for some days previous, but few persons attended it, and nothing was officially done relative so an assessment. The Commissioners, however, stated their views in relation to the faw and the value of the property, and these the public will doubtless be glad to learn.

The valuation of the one hundred acres proposed

The valuation of the one hundred acres propos to be taken for the Park will probably not exce $3,000 an acre or $250,000 for the whole. The assessment upon property immediately fronting upon the Park, it is proposed, shall be one hundred per cent. upon its present value. What the assessment upon more remote property will be, is still entirely undetermined. But the Commissioners have decided something vastly more important than the value of the land. They claim that, under the law, they are entitled to take as much time as they choose for the completion of their work. If the Commissioners are right in this, we trust, as nobody but a very few interested speculators want the Park, the Commissioners will not set finally in the matter until the people whe are to pay for the Park have an opportantity to pedition the next Legislature to repeal the law. $2,500 an acre or $250,000 for the whole. The Commissioners are also discussing their right to assess property, out lide the City limits, benefited by the laying out of the Park. The owners of a partion of this property, were, it is said, quite acting the law pas.ed, and we trust they may be made to bear their share of the burthen should the law passes.

himseli! [Langhter.] That was done under the police arrangements every day. If they had to bow to every ruch man as a hero, they would soon exhaust their power of admiration! [Laughter.] If Commodore Paulding had nung him (Walker), at the yard arm, he (Lovejoy) would have honored him for it. This is the treatment which such pirates ought to have dealt out to them. He entered his protest against clothing a man with heroism and making him a martyr, when he is simply a rascal. [Recessive Laughter.]

Mr. stanton said he understood the settled rule of international law to be that every nation has the right to pursue its criminals on the high sees and arrest them whenever found under its jan, and when it can be done legitimally under any other flag. The President say in his Message that Walker escaped, and it was of that ground that his arrest was made.

A long debate ensued.

New York, Jan. 5.—A Washington dispatch to the Fost, says that advices received there tend to confirm the report of a collision in Kansas. The last advices by mail are, that Lane hald 1,300 men, and plenty of ammunition.

Mayor Tiemann transmitted his message to the Council to day. He states the actual permanent debt of the city at about $10,250,000, in addition to the lunded debt, redeemable from taxation, $1,100,000; Treasury Loan account, nearly $3,500,000; Central Park assessment bonds, $1,500,000. The Mayor advertion strong terms to the great increase in the taxes, expressing the opinion that he public may well-complain of the heavy drafts on them, when property is rendered insecure through inefficiency, health endangered by the neglect of santiary laws, and life daily sacrined by violence, ruffmaism and crime, through the lack of energy in bringing the guilty to trial-sad punishment.

The Mayor thinks the city pays more than its chare of the State tax, and recommends the renewal of the application for a board of State Assessment, the Gallett of the States. The same he thinks the case with the School tax. He recommends a revision, and some cases a reduction of salaries, in the Sinking Fund account there is a balance of $2,000,000 every year, which should be entored to the treasury. In these ways a saving cam be made of $1,400,000. The Mayor treats of the various departments of the city government; recommends the procurement of steam fire engines, and that the finsurance companies should contribute more largely to that department. The value of the city property is over $42,000,000. The Mayor thinks the Metropolita Police bill unjust in many of its provisions, and that the Mayor should be at the head of the police, but will give his support to the law until it is repealed.

Arrest of Frank Beath and his Sister Birtam.
Bosron, Jan. 5.—Frank Heath and his sister Mylam Torz Heath, have been arrested in Draoat, near Lowell, for the murder of their father, Joshus Heath, a blacksmith, between 60 and 70 years old. The daughter, it is stated, confessed that she first attempted to poison her father, and that her brother, on Saturday night, shot him in the head, and atterwards buried his body. When it was found by the officers, they seemed to have a very faint idea of the enormity of the offence. The father was of intemperate habits, and often quarreled with and beat his cultiers.

The facts are these; and we state them again to more firmly impress them upon the minds of our for-getful neighbors. We charge that the Deno-erate Press, or one of its proprietors, is the owner of a wild-cat bank charter in Nebrasks. The Press admits the truth of the charge and singles out of the publishers' firm Mr. Sraas as the possessor of this valuable franchise; bu at the same time, does not farget to charge us with falsehood for during to assert what it openly arows. We again allude to the matter, that the Press' justification of wild-cat banking may have its origin in the personal interest which one of the Press' publishers has in mak-ing that kind of banking popular in the North-West. FROM KANSAS. The developments which have been made by the examination of the books of certain New England manufacturing companies, now bankrupt, for which Lawrence, Stone & Co., of Boston, were agents, show that an enormous mination of a State Ticket by mm-stated at $87,000-was paid by the Middiesex Company alone, for the purpose of se-curing a modification of the tariff to suit the in-terests of those who contributed the corruption fund. LAWRENCE, Dec. 26th, 1857. The Convetion adjourned on last evening, after one of the stormiest and most protracted sessions ever held in Kansas. It will be remembered that the subject matter of debate was the question whether the Free State party should nominate a ticket for State Officers under the Felon Constitution, and go into an election under the provisions of the schedule, with ment under it, so as to prevent our enemies using it against us. These were the reasons arged by those in favor of voting. They aght up the argument that our enemies ould use the govern ato the Union, against us, if allowed, undis-urbed, to obtain it.

On the other side it was urged that we could not enter into the election, because we pronounced it a "crime and misdemes urther, the time was too short, being bu en days, and a large number of the disets could not be reached, and be organized consequently we could not get out our full vote. The apportionment was also urged, as being unjust, giving to the Border Counties an undue preponderance to them; that the per-sons who were to count the votes could not be relied on; that under the schedule a test oath was required; that every body in Kansas on derance to them; that the perhe day of election was a legal voter under the titution and that it was impossible to keep lissourians out. These were some of the Thrilling Account of the Relief of Lucknow.

[Pron he Le Pays of Paris.]

CALCUTTA, Thursday, Dec. 8.

I give you the rollowing account of the recilief of Lucknow, as described by a lady, one of the rescued party; On every side death stared us in the face; no human skill could avert it any longer. We saw the moment approach when we must hid fare well to earth, yet without feeling that unutterable horror which must have been experienced by the unappy victims at Cawapore. We were resolved to die rather than to yield, and were fully persuaded that in twenty-four hours all would believe. The engineers had said so and all knew the worst. We women strove to encourage each other, and to perform the light duties which had been assigned to us, such as conveying orders to the batteries and supplying the men with provisions, especially cups of coffee, which we prepared day and night. I had gone out to tay and make myself useful, in company with Jessie Brawn, the wife of a corporal in my husband's regiment. Poor Jessie had been in a state of restless excitement all through the siege, and had fallen away visibly within the last few days. A constant fever consumed her, and her mind wandered occasionally, especially that day, when the recollections of home seemed powerfully presented to her. At last, overcome with fattigue, she lay down on the ground. ncipal arguments for and against the voting liey. In favor of the voting were Governo policy. In favor of the voting were Governor Rollinson, W. G. Roberts, Judges Conway, Smith and Schuyler, Meseri. smorr, Vanghan, Davis, Redpath, and a number of others, gentlemen well known in the Territory. On the other side was an array of names, men who had alwas been content to follow the lead of steblinson and Conway, who were known as their particular followers: Mr. Thatcher of the Benphilions, J. M. Walden, of the Chardeway, Mr. Elliott, of the Free State, Mesers, Legate, Deitzler, Oakley, Blood, Lyman Allen, Jones, and others. Over fifty speeches were made in Mr. Elliott, of the Free State, Messrs. Legate, Deitzler, Oakley, Blood, Lyman Allea, Johes, and others. Over fifty speeches were made in the two days session and when the vote was taken it stood—64 for voting, and 75 against. Driggs, of the National Democrat, and G. W. Brown, of the Herald, were actively engaged in log rolling in favor of voting, one outside and the other within the Convention. The design was to secure to Fred. P. Stanton the nomination under the Constitution. This did more to kill the proposition than aughtise, because the only strong objection in the minds of many was that the nomination of men, who would agree not to work the instrument, could not be proposed. Had this been assured, and the time been longer, I think nominations would have been entered into.

inntions would have been entered into.

SPLIT ANONG THE DELEGATES.

After the vote was recorded, it became evident that one wing of the Free State party would bolt the Convention, and nominate a State ticket. A cry was raised that the Convention was packed, and W. Y. Roberts gave notice that those in favor of nominating a State ticket would meet in the Masonic Hall. Quite an animated discussion occurred, and a good deal of feeling was excited. For the first time in the history of the Free State party had a Convention adjourned in a dissatisfied condition.

and her mind wandered occasionally, especially that day, when the recollections of home scemed powerfully presented to her. At last, overcome with fatigue, she lay down on the ground, wrapped up in her plaid. I sat beside her, promising to awaken her when, as she said, "her father should return from plowing." She fell at length into profound slumber, motionless and apparently breathless, her head esting in my lap. I myself could no longer resist the inclination to sleep, in spite of the continual roar of the cannon. Suddenly I was roused by a wild unearthly scream close to my ear; my companion stood upright beside me, her arms raised, and her head bent forward in the attitude of listening. A look of intense lelight broke over her commentance, she graspid my hand, drew me toward her, and exclaimd, "Dinna ye hear it?" then slogan o' the tightanders! We're saved, we're sayed!" hen, fliogring herself on her knees, she thanked od with passionnte ferror. I felt utterly belildered; my English ears heard only the roar lattillery, and I thought my poor Jessie was ill raving, but she daried to the batteries, and heard her cry incessanty to the men. No, it was indeed the blast of the Scottish bagpipes, now shrill and harsh, as threatening venganore upon the fee, then in softer tones, seeming to promise succor to their friends in need. Never surely was there such a scene as that which followed. Not a heart in the residency of Lucknow but bomb itself before God. All, by one simultaneous simpulse, fell upon their knees, and nothing was heard but bursting sense and the murmured voice of prayer. Then all arose, and there rung out from a thousand tips is great shout of joy which resounded far and wide, and lent new vigger to that blessed pibroch. To our cheer of "God save the Queen," they replied by the well known strain that moves every Scot to tears, Resolved, That the Free State porty of Kanas, will not take part in said election.

NEWS FROM FORT SCOVE.

Col. C. F. W. Leonbardi, Ald-de Camp to Gen. Lane, arrived in town with Lane to-night. From them we have authentic accounts of the progress and present termination of the difficulties. Col. Leonbardt, who it will be remembered, is a Prussian refugee—a soldier by profession, a man of fine abilities, and enraestly devoted to the cause of freedom—speaks in the strongest terms of praise as to the courage, fidelity and devotion of the Frée State men. Our latest accounts left Lane in camp on Sugar Mound, expecting an attack from the United States troops. On Wednesday, it appears, a rumor reached Moneks, where the troops were camped, that Lane had 550 men, well armed Mound, expecting an attack from the United States troops. On Wednesday, it appears, a rumor reached Moneks, where the troops were camped, that Lane had 500 men, well armed and eager to fight, and that he was coming to statek them. The U. S. camp was broken up and a retreat made on Fort Scott.

Gen. Lane sent out a beouting party to Barnesville and the vicinity of Fort Scott, under command of Lieut. Uol. Williams, with the object in view of accertaining whether frands had been committed at the swindling election, on Monday, the 21st inst., and if so, Major Shores had orders to bring the Judges of Election into camp. The party found that 38 votes were cast, and therefore no frauds had been committed. As this is an intense Border Ruffan hole, there is no doubt the presence of

But the exciting news which came from three to time from all parts of the Territory, and particularly from the neighbor hood of Fort Scott, where Lane was entrenched with an armed force, momentarily expecting a stitlek from the troops and dissourians, created such an intense feeling of hatred, and such a desire for revenge against the blood-thirst. Gov. Robinson had declined a nomination.

The various district nominations will be made this week, and on Monday, the 4th of January, 1858, twelve thousand freemen will be at the polls to vote, and to protect them from outrage.

This split is to be regretted, but it is not a sur prising occurrence. The news that was received from time to time in Lawrence, would have been sufficient to distract a much less excited body of men than were there assembled.

LATEST FROM THE SEAT OF WAR.

LATEST PROM THE SEAT OF WAR. Last night we received here the most grat ving and reliable intelligence that the difficult ties in the vicinity of Fort Scott have bee Fort Scott is about eighty miles south of the Kansas River, lies in Kansas almost on the bor der of Missouri, and is situated near the valle the Osage. The Missourians of that region had frequently threatened to drive the Free State men out of the valley. In pursuance of these threats they had arrested under the rebel lion act (which was repeated by the late extra sension of the Legislature,) the Rev. Mr. Stewar and two others; and placed them in Fort Scot-loy and keeping.

and two others; and pinced them in Fort Scoti or safe keeping.

A collision afterwards occurred between thout twenty Free State men and sixty or sev-enty Missourians under command of Deputy U. S. Marshal Little. Warshal Little was ficulties, shortly afterwards arrived. A com-pany of nearly two hundred men were formed, and under his command resolved to resist U. S. troops, or anything else that should come to them in the shape of enemies. The Pro-Slavery men had taken five more prisoners from among a small scouting party, who were sent to learn the whereabouts of the first three taken. This happened before Gen. Lane arrived.

On last Wednesday, three messengers sent by General Lane arrived in Lawrence, and in formed us that he was entrenched in a strong

But the expected collision has not occurred the prisoners have been released, and Genera Lane was probably in Lawrence last Friday night, or early yesterday morning. This you may rely upon.

everal promotions having teen actively appearance.

Thus has this serious outbreak, through the interierence of the millia, been speedily suppressed. That it originated from the prosinvery party, encouraged by the recent course of the administration, we have no doubt. The very fact of the making of arrests under a law, from its tyrannical import being almost obsolute, at this particular time, is sufficient evidence in our mind that this was a signal for the incursions of Missourians on the the day of dedece in our mind that this was a signal for the incursions of Missourians on the the day of developing that bogus constitution; and the only season they did not vote extensively down in Beurbon, as they came in, was that they were trightened off by the Free State men. One thing may be deduced from this and which is a source of consolation and encouragement to every Free State man residing in Kansas, or wishing to make it his home. They are able to protect themselves; and, if need be, to restrain the troops, when ill-directed. Another, that they will not submit to arbitrary law, enforced by outsiders, even should the prisoners be promised "Christian and humans treatment," and their friends be importuned to "bail them out." And finally, that the recent acts of the Legislature will be sustained by the people, no matter what instructions the secretary may have in a commission on pro-slavery authority, in which the President assumes a position an tagoulatic to the act by which Kansas was

The Provisional Government was installed at the Hotel de Ville. There they sat affid de liberated. A surging crowd of scores of thousands was outside. The Provisional Government was the breath of a moment, and could be blown sway by another breath. It needed moral force. It was not recognized by any foreign power. It was solated. It was an Ishmaelite against the European world. But there was no king to have his head cut off and thrown in the face of the tyrants of Europe and wreathe a barrier of fire around the land, strengthouing the power of democratic centralization. Where was the American minister? Why did he not cagerly rush up to embrace his democratic brothers in their strait, and in the face of the world pledge the goodwill of the great American to the great French Republic? Lamartine would have greeted him as a fast brother. Days were then as months—minutes as days. This condisions by its IMMENSE STOCK OF EMBROIDERIES !! OUR ENTIRE STOCK may be said. But finally our American reacted the inner room, where sat the "Arbiters of French destiny" at that time. Without pre-PHILLIPS, HUNT & CO., THOMPSON (MURDOCH.)-THE SEASONS. N & HILLIAM ed the inner room, where sat the "Arbiters of French destiny" at that time. Without preliminary, he introduced himself to M. Lamartine, and asked if the Provisional Government were ready to receive at once the official recognition of the American Minister. M. Lamartine would be too happy. So our American, accompanied by M. Lamartine to the steps of the Hotel de Ville, departed; not, however, without receiving military honors; for, so sanotioned by the presence of the President of the Provisional Government, the troops presented arms to him as he passed, and the word intuctivation of the manufacture of the provisional Government, the troops presented arms to him as he passed, and the word intuctivative with empressement, and so forth. About two hoars after, the Monteus was out with this in official form, that S. E., the American Ambasacdeur, had passed at the Hotel de Ville to recegnize, on the part of his grand nation, the Provisional Government. The mistake was natural, but it "told." The Hotels of Legation were roused by the news. The English Embassy sent a messenger to the English Government, telling the news, and asking instructions. The hesitants among the Americans were taken aback. Young America was rampant. Pogies were sulphureously denounced. Toadies and company sent down below. The American Minister was slightly surprised himself. What was simply true in speculation, namely, that the American Republic ought to recognize the French, without delay, was believed to be the fact. The great Monitour had announced if.—There was no possibility of retreat with hosor, even if there had been the disposition. So S. E., the American Ambasedeur, had but one election. He summoned his faithful Achates, Black George, and with his accomplished Secretary hied to the Hotel de Ville, the Interview being agreed upon. Then and there had an excellent little address, which was well responded to by the sublime Lamartine. The Americans—even of the reticent order—followed suit, and the entent cordinale was completed. From that lone, trembling tower, look southward; thence come the wasers in their might, as if a sea, in some far off region, beyond ken, (whose fountains who shall tell?) had suddenly burst its barrier, and from lis fallness and exhaustless stores poured down those ceaseless floods. Rejoicing in freedom, on they come and, heaving and surging, and rolling and tembling, and leaping and dashing, and tossing and splashing, for miles in extent, raging and foaming, they fill the whole region with wildest commotion. Then gathering strength, and exacting in power; resistless, they hasten and rush to the verge of that swfal gulf.

Down, down, they plungs, through mist and foam, with deafening roar, into the abyse below. The secrets of that draid, unfathonable gulf, no tongue can tell, no pen describe.
